

Indiana's telemarketing no-call list has worked remarkably well. The calls have dropped from maybe 10+ a week to one every other week now; also allowing me to cancel the phone company's privacy manager and to save the 4.95 a month charge. I would not like to see any changes made with the existing Indiana law.